About Attaining the Peak Oxford

Attaining the Peak is a student-inspire-student; student-motivate-student; and student-challenge-student programme, in which students between the ages of 12 and 18 in state schools are given the opportunity to interact with Oxford University students in a variety of settings. This is to encourage young students to aspire to achieve high academic and professional goals. The initial programme is a 10 -week programme that starts from the 27th of May with an induction session at Wadham College.

Vision

We envision a day when all youth, wherever they are and whatever their backgrounds, will gain access to equal opportunities and develop as positive-minded people who realise their dreams by attaining the peak in whatever endeavour they undertake for their own and society's benefit.

Mission Statement

On the Attaining the Peak Programme we inspire to aspire...to motivate, challenge and support young students to conceive and believe in order to achieve their ultimate (intellectually, professionally,... et cetera) in life for the benefit of themselves, families, communities and society at large.
